

Narrator – A Medley of Thanksgiving Plays

Theme: A narrator introduces each play and greets the audience.

Narrators: Bronx and Cash

Cash Welcome: Students, teachers and welcome friends. We wish you a Happy Fall and a Wonderful Thanksgiving!

My name is Cash, and my name is Bronx, and our class would like to take you on a journey, a series of short plays that celebrate the joys of this season. First, we will spend time with a family making one of our favorite foods, pie. What follows is a true family Thanksgiving with all the fixings. Then, we'll visit a group of professors helping a newspaper reporter with an important Thanksgiving article. Finally, we'll enjoy a Thanksgiving poem.

Cash "How Much Pie?": Let's not delay a second longer, it's time for pie...the question is: How Much Pie? "How Much Pie?" is performed by Ali, Cooper, Xochilt and Kayston.

Cash "One Big Happy Family": Thank you, we are all grateful for friends...and what is better than friends? Family of course!

Let's join "One Big Happy Family" who has traveled far and wide to be with each other on Thanksgiving Day. "One Big Happy Family" is performed by: Anna, Jack, Luke, Mikayla, Eli, Tru, Jesus and Cameron.

Bronx Narrator “A Cornucopia of History”: Thank you, we were glad to enjoy Thanksgiving and the football game with you!

We are now going to head off to college, where a group of university professors are teaching a newspaper reporter about the symbols of Thanksgiving. “A Cornucopia of History” is performed by: Olivia, Henry, Kinzley, Suhrid, Hayden, Echo and Reagan.

Bronx Thanksgiving Poem: Thank you again. It is wonderful to have a holiday that is just focused on gratitude, and speaking of thankfulness, we have a “Thanksgiving Poem” for you! It will be performed by: Joel, Jaylah and Ibrahim.

Bronx Narrator: Well guests, we are most grateful for YOU!!!

Thank you for coming and sharing Thanksgiving with us today! We appreciate you and we all want to wish you...

Everyone: HAPPY THANKSGIVING!
